

Application to Holy Trinity College Course Catalog

Holy Trinity College and Seminary is the institution for higher learning of the Southern Episcopal Church of the USA, serving as the Seminary for her clergy and providing continuing Christian education for others who have a desire to acquire more knowledge concerning the Bible, the Church, education and theology. The College and Seminary is Traditional Anglican in its theological position and teachings, teaching always the truths of the One, Holy, Catholic and Apostolic Church, from the traditional Anglican point of view. We welcome all who desire to learn; the doors of the Seminary are open to all who seek to know God's will for mankind.

Holy Trinity College and Seminary was founded in 1968 and was incorporated on a nonprofit basis in 1992. It is governed by a board of trustees, the members of which are all bishops and priests and laymen of the Southern Episcopal Church of the USA.

The degree programs of this college are designed solely for religious vocations.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Persons desiring to enroll in Holy Trinity College and Seminary must make application to the Office of the Registrar. The application forms may be obtained by writing to the Administrative Office. The Applicant must complete the application in full and return it with a bust photo and the proper fees.

Applicants desiring to enroll under the Distance Learning program may do so at any time during the year.

All applications will be individually evaluated.

Transcripts of all previous study, High School, College, and Seminary must be sent to the Office of Records.

TRANSFER CREDITS

Evaluation of transfer credits is made only from official transcripts after the student has been admitted. Students from recognized schools will receive full credit for equivalent courses, if the grades received are "C" or better and if the content of the courses meet the requirements of the student's program. Transfer of credits earned at Holy Trinity to another school is at the sole discretion of the receiving institution.

ADVANCED STANDING

An applicant may receive advanced standing through credit transfer from other recognized institutions and/or from credit assessment for experiential learning when merited and demonstrated by written data. Such advanced standings shall in no case remove the requirement of a minimum of 32 semester hours of study with Holy Trinity College and Seminary.

CREDIT FOR LIFE EXPERIENCE

Holy Trinity College and Seminary recognizes the value of learning outside the traditional classroom. This education may take place through on-the-job-training in business, in the ministry, in the class room, or skills either by formal written descriptions of his experiences or by examination. In either case, formal request must be made to the Office of Admissions.

CREDITS FOR CLERGY AND TEACHERS

A student working toward a degree in Religious Education may receive credit for on-the-job-teaching experience. To receive such credit, the principal or administrator of the school must submit a letter to Holy Trinity defining the work being done and his evaluation of the student's effectiveness.

A student serving a mission, church or chaplain's office may receive credit by requesting his immediate superior to write a letter defining his activities and evaluating his effectiveness. This should also be accompanied by an outline of formal education that has been completed by the student.

TEXTBOOKS AND COURSES

Regular college level textbooks are used by Holy Trinity in the College division and seminary level texts in the graduate division; study guides are provided to aid the student. All courses require the best from each student. It reflects our commitment to our ministry of our Lord as to how seriously we take our studies for preparation for the work He has called us to do.

In all instances (both for the On-Campus and the External-Degree student) students are required to use the facilities of the Holy Trinity College and Seminary Library, another college or university library, or a local library for such research materials as are needed. All courses offered in Holy Trinity's External-Degree program are designed to be equivalent to resident work. One may find the courses offered to be more difficult than when working in the classroom, but this is due to the need for self-discipline.

EXTERNAL-DEGREE INFORMATION

Under both the College and the Seminary divisions External Degree credits and degrees are awarded for academic learning. With text-books, study-guides, and cassette tapes, the serious student can benefit equally with the student in the class-room. The program may be tailored to fit the needs of the student; the student may enroll at any time; he can learn at his own pace. These are the benefits of the External-Degree program. The deficiencies are that he has much less contact with other students; his contacts with the professor are less direct; he loses out on the "give and take" of the classroom discussions.

The curriculum is designed to occupy a student's full time. A full-time student is one in the Bachelor's program who is carrying a load of fifteen or more classroom hours per week; in the Master's program, twelve or more; in the Doctoral program, at least eight hours.

COMPLETING A COURSE

In the External-Degree program, the student normally completes one course at a time. It is customary to complete a course in one month; at this rate, he may expect to complete his work in the same amount of time as the classroom student. If more time is needed, the student may request an extension of time from the dean.

Should the student fail to contact Holy Trinity within a 90-day period, the student will be placed on suspension pending a determination as to the excusability of the absence. Inexcusable lack of communication is cause for dismissal.

PREPARING AND MAILING LESSONS

Holy Trinity College and Seminary requires that all lesson material be sent to the grading office and that they be prepared and written on 8½-by-11-inch paper, one side only. Typewritten work is preferred; neatly written work in ink is acceptable.

All work submitted must contain the student's name, course number and title, and the student's name and address. The student is required to make a copy of all his work in case of loss in mailing. Each page must be numbered.

When preparing a thesis or research paper, students must follow Terabian's style manual (Kate L. Terabian, A Manual for Writers of Term Papers, Theses, and Dissertations, University of Chicago Press).

The student must pay the postage on all lessons sent to the school for grading and provide a return envelope with the proper postage for returning the graded material. Insufficient postage will be charged to the student's account and must be reimbursed by the student. All completed lessons should be sent to the grading office as soon as completed.

RESIDENT STUDY

Holy Trinity College and Seminary holds regular classes on the semester system. Each semester is approximately fifteen weeks long. There is a three-week January term, during which a student may complete one course. Holy Trinity also holds summer sessions.

GRADING SYSTEM

All academic work is graded according to the following standard:

In case of death or involuntary call to military duty, Holy Trinity will refund 80% of the remaining unused tuition, less the cost of books. The signing of the application is considered signing a contract with Holy Trinity, and the student becomes liable for the entire amount of the program in which he enrolls. Refund of all fees will be made if student withdraws within three working days after signing of contract.

DEGREES AWARDED BY HOLY TRINITY

Holy Trinity College and Seminary offers the following degrees (all of which are religious in nature) for those completing the necessary academic work.

Bachelor of Religious Education (B.R.Ed.), Bachelor of Theology (Th.B.) or Bachelor of Christian Counseling (B.Ch.C.) for the student completing a minimum of 120 semester-hour credits of college work.

Master of Religious Education (M.R.Ed.) for those who hold a Bachelor's degree and complete a minimum of 36 semester-hour credits of academic work in one of three fields: Christian Education, Christian Counseling, or Sacred Music.

Master of Divinity (M.Div.) for the student entering with a Bachelor's degree and completing the three-year (90 semester-hour-credit) course for the priesthood.

Master of Theology (Th.M.) for the student completing a four-year graduate program (120 semester-hour credits beyond the bachelor's degree or 30 semester-hour credits beyond the M.Div.).

Doctor of Religious Education (D.R.Ed.) for the professional who has completed his master's program in one of the fields listed above and completes a program designed for his academic purposes. This degree requires a minimum of three years of graduate study, completion of at least 30 semester-hour credits beyond the master's degree, and submission of a 30,000 word thesis.

Doctor of Divinity (D.D.) for those who have served faithfully and need or desire an advanced degree for their work in the Church. They must possess a master's degree and complete 30 semester-hour credits of studies or equivalent, including a 30,000-word thesis.

Doctor of Sacred Theology (S.T.D.) for the person who has completed either the Master of Divinity or Master of Sacred Theology. He must complete a program not less than five years of graduate study, including at least 30 semester-hour credits beyond the M.Div. or Th.M., and write a 50,000-word thesis.

DEFINING THE PROGRAMS The Bachelor's degrees differ in these respects: The Th.B. is primarily for those planning to enter the pastoral ministry, and the B.R.Ed. is primarily for those intending to enter into one of the other ministries of the Church. Most of the course is common to both, but those in Applied Christianity differ where the task is different.

The same is true of the Master's degrees: The M.R.Ed. is intended for those entering non-pastoral leadership; the M.Div. is the first professional degree for the clergy; the Th.M. is open to both groups (for advanced training and for those desiring to prepare more adequately for doctoral studies). It is intended that those entering the field of Sacred Music shall complete the common-core courses for the M.R.Ed. in every case.

Those very few who demonstrate the capacity to do outstanding research may plan to work toward their Doctoral degrees: The S.T.D. is an academic degree, and in all cases requires a dissertation; the D.R.Ed. is a professional degree, and the candidate may elect either a research project or a dissertation.

COMMENCEMENT

Degrees and academic awards are presented to residential and home-study graduates at the annual commencement program, held in May. All graduates residing in the United States and Canada are invited to attend the Commencement service.

The Chancellor's reception is held prior to the graduation exercises each year, and the families of the graduates are cordially invited to attend. The Commencement Dinner follows the graduation exercises, and it is at this time that the graduates are inducted into the Alumni Association.

The cost of the Commencement Dinner is not included in the graduation fee, but each student will be informed of the actual cost prior to commencement. Those other than the graduates who desire to attend the Dinner must have their reservations in not later than April 20.

THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

All persons who have been graduated from Holy Trinity College and Seminary and all who have been awarded honorary degrees from the Seminary are members of the Alumni Association. The Association supports the school by its prayers, financial contribution, and their encouragement of qualified students to consider attending Holy Trinity College and Seminary.

Alumni Day is observed each year on the Friday before the annual Commencement. The Association honors the classes that are celebrating their tenth, twentieth, twenty-fifth and thirtieth anniversaries.

SPECIAL STUDIES Due to the limitations of faculty and equipment, there will be some courses which students may desire to take for which Holy Trinity cannot provide leadership. In those instances, students are encouraged to take such course at one of the nearby colleges or universities. The student must pay the additional costs.

There will be, however, some courses for which the faculty and facilities are adequate. In these instances, when it is feasible the course may be taken either in class (when more than five request it) or as an independent-study project. This option is available to all full-time students, residential and distance learning degree, undergraduate and graduate. If you are from another denomination, and there are special studies you need to complete for your ministry, please feel free to discuss this with the staff when you are making your application.

There is a new course of studies that we are offering through Holy Trinity for clergy and other Church workers. It is a course in computer training. These are three-credit-hour courses. In today's world every clergyman needs to not only know how to operate a computer but also how to change the soft ware, clean up a disk, replace a disk drive that no longer works and in general be computer literate. For details on these, contact the college.
